The defendant shall contribute 25 hours of community service work over a period of 2 months or less, as directed by the United States Probation Office. Such service shall be without compensation, with the specific work placement to be approved by the U.S. Probation Office.

CAUSE

The offender was released from custody on October 9, 2008, and enrolled in a random urine monitoring program, namely Code -A- Phone. The program entails the offender telephone the system once per day and await instructions as to whether a urine is to be submitted the following date. The offender failed to appear for urine testing as directed by the system on the following dates: November 6, 2008; December 1 and 22, 2008; February 4 and 10, 2009, and April 1, 2009. After each failure to submit to testing, the urine was obtained and subsequently determined to be negative. However, the offender had adequate warning that failure to comply with calling or failure to submit to urinalysis would result in notification to the Court. The probation officer purports the offender's completion of community service will serve as a sanction for the failure to comply with Code-A-Phone testing procedures, as well as serve as a benefit to the community. The offender's compliance with these requirements will continue to be closely monitored.
